He's saving for a "rainy day" too.

Little Mr. Economy says—

CERTAINLY I'M BUYING WAR BONDS!

But I'm doing more than that, I'm stacking up against the "rainy day" when there'll be a shortage of food by growing vegetables. Last year I sold enough from my garden to buy a couple of war bonds, too. I'm stacking up, too, against that time when there may not be enough good cheer to go around—you know how, don't you? Why, by growing plenty of cheerful flowers. I've found that I can have just as many flowers as ever and still have plenty left for the "rainy day." You've heard of Geo. W. Park Seed Co., haven't you? They offer every kind of seed I've ever needed and the beauty of it is that they cost only a nickle a packet.

The Friendship Page

MY DEAR FLORAL FRIENDS:

For seventy-five years we have had the pleasure of greeting you annually through the pages of Park's Flower Book. These repeated greetings and the many pleasant letters that come to us every day have brought us into the happy relation of friends, and as such, we feelingly and truly address you. We want, first, to thank you for your past esteemed and repeated orders, your kind words of appreciation and encouragement, and your ever-continuing efforts to increase our big floral family. We gladly greet you, for we know that in due time there will be a pleasing response that will renew our friendship, and make us both happier and better during the weeks and months and years to come. Jan. 1, 1943 Floridically yours,

GEO. B. PARK,
Greenwood, S. C.

Here is a beautiful poem written to us by Mrs. James Olson of Stockton, Calif., and enclosed in a friendly letter:

MY WISHING WELL

Your seed book is my Wishing Well;
I scan it's depth's and dream,
Of Lilies tall and Snowdrops small;
And grass of vivid green.

If I might have my wish come true
I'd choose a background bold,
Of lovely blue Delphinium
And Foxglove, white and gold.

Next the velvet Salpiglossis
In all their colors rare;
And graceful, petaled Asters
In their pastel beauty fair;

There'd be Phlox and Baby Zinnias
For the borders at their feet,
Also Pansies, Aubrieta,
And purple Violets Sweet.

I would want a bed of glowing
Cannas
And Carnation's fragrant bloom
For Petunia's ruffled Chantress
I could always find some room.

GEO. W. PARK, Founder

Rows of trailing white Alyssum
Like the gauze of Fairy lace,
Saucy Blackeyed Susans,
And a Daisy's upturned face.

Your Seed Book is my Wishing Well;
I scan it's depth's and dream.
Oh, there's so much wondrous beauty
In this Wishing-Well of Mine.

A FEW OF THE PRIZE WINNING ENTRIES.

I like the Geo. W. Park Seed Co., because:
Your seeds are tops
Your plants are rare
Your five-cent packets
Are Never spare.

Your friendly service
Is on the square
I love your garden
For God is there.

Park's Seeds have been a must have since 1900. In my family for three generations, Grandmother, Mother, and myself all planted Park's reliable seeds.

CHOICE ANNUAL PHLOX

PHLOX DRUMMONDII

This is one of our best annual flowers. At the North, plants should be started in beds or boxes and transplanted, but in the South the seeds may be sown in Spring or Fall where plants are to bloom. They mostly re-seed and cover the ground with volunteer plants. They like rather sandy, rich soil, and will grow in any garden. Seedlings begin to bloom when small and continue throughout the season. The bright flowers in many colors and variegations appear in big broad clusters. A carpet bed of the plants in special colors makes a glorious display. SUPREME STOCKS

Classed botanically as Matthiola incana, this beautiful group of annuals and biennials is very popular with florist and home gardener alike, and rightly so, for nothing is quite so satisfactory for outdoor beds and borders as the Dwarf Ten Week Stock or Beauty of Nice, both blooming in 10 weeks from date of planting.

For cut flowers in late summer and fall the Early Colonial, Giant Excelsior, and Giants of California are excellent. They should be planted in early spring. These three groups are also delightful indoor pot plants for winter culture.

Early Colonial
Rose Standish

ICTORY

STOCK EARLY COLONIAL

This lovely basal branching type of stock was first introduced in 1941, and met with immediate approval everywhere. The reason for its wide acceptance is that it does not produce a central spike, so requires no pinching to make it branch. From the base of each plant, eight to ten heavy 30 in. branches spread to produce a plant 20 in. in diameter. Large 2 in. florets are typical of this new strain, and they form clusters fifteen inches long. High percentage of doubles.

ROSE STANDISH—A beautiful new rose color in the Early Colonial type stock. This year we offer "Rose Standish," a large flowered bright rose. A novelty you can not afford to miss.

Priscilla, shining silver lavender.

Puritan, beautiful pure snow white.

For an extra early start, seeds may be sown in flats and transplanted; however, they grow more sturdily if sown in the bed where they are to stand after all danger of frost has passed. When plants are a few inches high, keep well cultivated and give thorough soaking by trench method every two weeks. These flowers have been so wonderfully developed and come in such a splendid array of varieties in size, color, and form that no garden can be "in style" without them.

100 First Quality No. 1 size Gladioli corms for only $3.50

10 bulbs each of 10 varieties our selection of bulbs we have in surplus from our named varieties. Each variety separately bagged and labeled.

FACTS ABOUT THE GLADIOLUS. The flowers of Gladioli are not formed in the corm as is the case with Tulips and Lilies; but are made as the plant develops. It is therefore necessary to have good fertile soil and proper moisture to develop the finest flowers. Young corms 2 or 3 years old have a high crown and small basal area. It is from these bulbs that the finest flowers originate. Each year a new corm is formed on top of the original bulb, and bulbets are produced at its base. The old bulb will produce a poorer flower with each season it is used. New bulbs are obtained by growing the bulbets on until they reach optimum size of 1 1/2 in. diam. It is from these bulbs that the finest blooms are obtained.

INDEX AND GERMINATION TABLE

WHEN sowing seeds it is always best to divide the packets and sow at different times. Note the time and give good care until the plants have had time to appear. Figures here indicate pages, and letters indicate as per key, the time needed for germination. Do not condemn seeds until you have given them at least two or three trials. Those marked z will often lie dormant for a year or more. Seeds of Trees and Shrubs should be sown in a retired bed which will not be disturbed for two or three years. Some will start in a reasonable time and can be removed. Germination, however, is variable and more or less tardy.
